Why do we need pest control?

Pest management plays an essential role in helping industry and organisations to continue to offer quality goods and services ensuring you never have to worry about infestations or the associated health risks, damage to goods and property or reputational harm.

Ireland has seen dramatic changes in pest activity over recent years, increases include a 94% rise in callouts for rodents and a 42% increase in cockroach activity.

“ Rat’s teeth never stop growing which is why they never stop gnawing – on wood, plastic, even glass! Electric wires are a particular favourite. ”

Hygiene

Pests carry dangerous germs that could contaminate your environment. They can endanger the health of your employees and our customers.

Damage

Pests can damage electrical wires, destroy inventory, cause structural damage, leaks, and even fires.

Reputation

A reputation diligently built up over time can be destroyed over a few days, social media and newsfeeds have opened business to global exposure.

“ The average mouse consumes 3-4g of food daily, producing an average of 80 droppings. ”

“ A cockroach is incredibly resilient: they can survive a month without food and a week without their head!! ”

Elis Pest Control

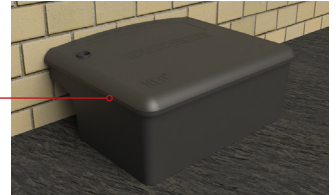

Complete preventative and curative pest control solutions adapted to your business needs.

Rodent Control

Rats, field mice, mice, etc.

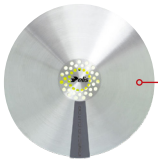

Our expert teams develop strategic pest management programs for your specific needs, supported by an ongoing program of site inspections recommendations and proofing works. Infestations are treated and eradicated immediately. Our online reporting and pest trend analysis system is accessed via your customer portal, delivering real time information which facilitates proactive approaches to pest control and prevention.

Flying and Crawling Insect Control

Flies, wasps, mosquitoes, flour moths, cockroaches etc

Our flycatchers and pheromone lures are designed to attract and capture flying insects effectively and discreetly. We offer a wide range of EFks, including UV LED flycatchers which are not only highly effective but offer a 67% saving on energy costs. Our rental maintenance model means there are no upfront costs while our experts will deal immediately with any infestations using insecticide treatments in addition to removing nests, implementing preventive courses and advising on sanitation and structural issues.

Bird / Wildlife Control

Seagulls, pigeons, foxes

Pigeons and seagulls can be a real threat to business – bird fouling, damage to roof tiles and blocked guttering are real concerns but there is also the threat of secondary infestations from lice, mites and flies. Our experienced avian specialists, use discreet, cost-effective methods that won't harm the birds or disrupt your business. We are always conscious of the many non-target species among our urban and rural wildlife and have extensive experience dealing with foxes, feral cats and grey squirrels.

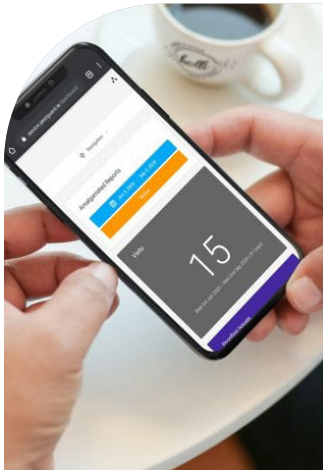

Other services

Deep cleans, Bed bugs, Audits

Elis offers disinfection and bioclean services designed to stop the spread of harmful pathogens, viruses, bacteria and fungi; as a precautionary measure or in reaction to an outbreak. We also offer heat treatments utilising the application of dry heat to eliminate pests at all lifecycle stages in one fast-acting treatment. We have a range of targeted bed bug treatments in the case of infestation.

Additional Services: Sanitation audits, Field Biologist reports

PESTGUARD
